

Scents of Mint

The first recorded use of macaroon was in 1605–15, and it originated from the Middle French word macaron via the dialectal Italian maccarone (“cake or biscuit made of ground almonds”). So the macaroon comes from the French version of a cookie that originated from an Italian treat. This is a version that gives a new dimension using the new Dobla Curvy leaf green & bringing in a plant based product using variants of mint varieties.
