Novelties

Changed items *

* Dobla is changing its assortment to E171-free

Reason for this:

The European Union has reviewed the usage of E171 as a food additive and is finalizing the implementation of a full ban. The starting date of this new legislation has not been decided yet by the EU, but is expected soon.

In anticipation of the expected full ban of E171 within the EU, we have reviewed our assortment and adapted items that used to contain E171 for EMEA. Dobla APAC is following many of these changes. At Dobla, we strive to use as much natural coloring as possible for our chocolate creations that contain colouring. Many of our products have Natural or No Colouring.

What does this mean in detail for the APAC Collection 2022?

- Many items that used to contain E171 have been replaced in this collection by products with new recipes without E171. These items have new article numbers and are indicated with "NEW RECIPE".
- These replaced items that used to contain E171 (old article numbers, not included in this collection) will remain available while stocks last.
- After that, the former items with E171 will only be available on request (Made-to-Order only). In case you are interested in (one of) these items, please contact us for details and conditions.

For any questions, please contact Dobla Asia Company Ltd.

Three chestnut cakes, known as 'Chestnut symphony', are arranged diagonally on a white marble surface. Each cake is a small, fluted, golden-brown ring. They are topped with a swirl of light-colored cream, garnished with fresh blueberries, a single red cherry, and a delicate, yellow, curled leaf. The cakes are dusted with a fine layer of white powdered sugar. A label 'Curvy leaf yellow' with a dotted line points to one of the yellow leaves.
